Master's Fellowship – 1 vacancy

Within the project – Spermantiox

Project Ref.: PTDC/CVT-CVT/4109/2020

Ref. nº: CCMAR/BM/20/2023

The Centre for Marine Sciences (CCMAR) opens one (01) Master's Fellowship (Bolsa de Mestrado), for applicants of any nationality, including stateless candidates, and holders of political refugee status, in the scientific field of aquaculture, laboratorial or biological sciences, within the research project Spermantiox – ref. PTDC/CVT-CVT/4109/2020 – “New approaches on the antioxidant diet-effect in fish sperm traits: the role of sperm microRNAs on transgenerational transmission” funded by the Fundação para a Ciência e a Tecnologia, I.P./MCTES through national funding (PIDDAC) under the following conditions:

Host and Contracting Institution: CCMAR

This fellowship is intended for R&D activities, by a student with a bachelor degree enrolled in a Master's Degree, at the beginning of the fellowship, with a view to consolidating his/her scientific training, through the development of research work leading to the achievement of a Master's degree.

Work Plan, Tasks to perform and objectives:

The Spermantiox project is focused on studying the benefits of antioxidant supplements in the feed, in gamete quality.

The selected fellowship holder will be involved in the following tasks and objectives:

1. Zootechnical aquaculture routines (such as maintenance and feeding) of gilthead seabream broodstock and juveniles housed at Ramalhete research station.
2. Participation in the scheduled samplings as part of ongoing experiments.
3. Assistance in laboratory analyses of collected samples, both gametes and seminal plasma. For gametes analysis the techniques predicted are the following: sperm motility monitoring using the CASA system, determination of lipid peroxidation by MDA, and DNA fragmentation assessment through the comet assay. Regarding seminal plasma samples, it is expected that the grantee will support activities related to the extraction and characterization of exosomes using the IZON equipment.
4. Support in other activities within the project or the Aquaculture Research Group at CCMAR.

Scientific Supervisor:

Professor Doctor Elsa Cabrita, Professor at Universidade do Algarve, group leader, coordenador of the project and researcher at CCMAR (Presidente of the jury).
